

Licence to drive a heavy combination vehicle (CITB)

Heavy Combination Licence

This course is designed to cover the skills and knowledge required to obtain a licence to drive a heavy combination vehicle. Skills covered are controlling the vehicle, monitoring road conditions, following road rules and managing hazardous situations. Additional skills include communication skills to work with others and skill in reading instructions, procedures and signs. This course meets the DPTI licence requirements and regulations for heavy combination vehicles training.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Students must have held their "MR" or "HR" licence for one year to be eligible to complete this class of licence. Applicants must be physically fit – should the applicant have identified medical issues that may prevent them from driving this class of licence, an approval to gain a heavy vehicle licence from the Licencing Regulator is also required. All CITB applicants must have written approval from their current employer confirming that licence is required for their current employment.
